Ald. Dick said the county council would take no action on the valuation report. The matter would have to come back to the council.

It was pointed out, however, that the county had the power to decide whether the matter of valuation should be referred to the council, and a strong feeling should be put up to the council. The resolution carried unanimously.

WARRIORS TO THE ISSUE

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The morning newspaper sent the branch in diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany as a matter of concern to all the citizens and to the British in Canada and moderate hosts of the newspapers say the new relations are a surprise. It is thought that the surprise is in the making that this step was expected. President Roosevelt has said the newspapers say the country must meet this danger as the leader of two continents of the world. The war factor is treated as comparatively unimportant owing to the relations of the area. If war should break out, the situation would be that would be required to create an effect. The opinion is expressed some quarters that the submarine will

THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME

The greatest moving picture in the world

The moving picture followed the charging British Troops across "No Man's Land" through the German barbed wire July 1st.

PART 1.

Preparatory Action, June 25th to 30th.

Showing the activities before Fricourt—Mametz. Similar action took place along the entire British front in Picardy.

Hidden batteries were pounding the German trenches for five days before the attack of July 1st.

4.7 inch guns were giving the enemy no rest.

6-inch Howitzers in action shelling the German first-line trenches of Mametz.

Canadian 60-pounders added to the din of gun fire.

Shrapnel bursting over their trenches kept Germans astir.

Church service evening before attack.

Firing "plum puddings" for Emperor Bill from trench mortars.

Bombarding the Germans with 92-inch Howitzers.

Shells tearing up the enemy's deep dugouts.

PART 2.

A meal in camp on the evening of the great advance. Moving up the troops.

Operating a 15-inch Howitzer ("Grandmother") by Royal Marine Artillery, firing shells weighing 1400 lbs. Terrible concentrated bombardment of German trenches the morning of the attack, July 1st, 1916.

Flying bayonets and passing through the communication trenches to first line.

Just before the attack. Blowing up the enemies' trenches by a huge mine. Wiring the crater.

Firing machine guns from parapet.

Shrapnel bursting over first-line German trenches.

A recent Government report issued upon the paper and printing industry of Canada, shows that the largest in Canada, with a capital investment of over $100,000,000, and that the industry produces more than 100,000,000 copies of newspapers, magazines, books, and other printed matter. It also states that the industry employs more than 100,000 people.

The Ottawa Packet correspondence bears evidence to the fact that the young men from the surrounding country to the war munitions plants in Vancouver. We take leave to question whether under existing circumstances, this is a movement that should be regarded. We have been told that the young men cannot be spared from the farms. It is true, if they can, the country's first call for fighting men to keep up the forces at the front.

Of these young men, however, have not yet by any means furnished their fair quota. If, therefore, the young men are to be spared from the farms the place for them is in the ranks. The artillery in particular is in need of just such men.

country districts can afford men used to horses and to heavy manual work. There is as yet no pressing demand for unskilled labor for the munitions factories, and if there should be the work would be done by the emergency. Young farmers who are not willing to enlist, could serve their country on the farms, helping to keep up production. By coming to the front to work in munitions factories they lay themselves open to the suspicion that at this crisis, doubt and then cannot for more than with their patriotism.

fighting more of Americans now in France under the Union Jack. In proportion to the number of the United States army, which was actually engaged in the battle of the Marne, the British Empire has sent more men to France than any other country.

Hundreds of Americans have given their lives for the cause of the allies, and hundreds of others bear permanent scars from the course of battle, but each new battalion and each new group of reinforcements arriving from overseas brings with it the assurance of their fellow countrymen to take their place in the ranks.

The Canadian recruits naturally attract the attention of the many Americans of the same race living in the Dominion when the war broke out. The Americans are now scattered through the distant English, but they are now found among the Australians, South Africans and in the ranks of the British Empire.

Many former members of the U. S. Army and of the Canadian National Guard are now in the ranks of the British Empire. The men who have been in the ranks of the British Empire are now in the ranks of the British Empire.

move is about as unwelcome here as if Mr. Gerard in Berlin had gone behind the German Government through the Spanish Ambassador, who represents the United States there, in an appeal to the German people, on a wholly incomplete issue.

Whether any sort of answer beyond mere acknowledgement of the Swiss minister who presented the suggestion yesterday, will be made is uncertain, but that matter rests entirely with President Wilson. Opinions differ, some believing it wiser to ignore the ation entirely. It is possible that a summary of the present submarine campaign with a list of the kings without warning and the loss of lives may be submitted as further showing why the United States and other neutrals believe Germany's war outside the bounds of law.

the fact that only one vessel was destroyed in the war zone to-day and that the number has been growing ailer daily has modified the views of those who thought the new campaign might completely isolate England. Reports from British sources state only less than ninety vessels out of 1,109 going to and from England

The greatest moving picture in the world

The moving picture followed the charging British Troops across "No Man's Land" through the German barbed wire July 1st.

PART 1.

Preparatory Action, June 24th to 30th.

Showing the activities before Prévost-Mametz. Similar action took place along the entire British front in Picardy.

Hidden batteries were pounding the German trenches for five days before the attack of July 1st.

4.7 inch guns were giving the enemy no rest.

18 inch Howitzers in action shelling the German first-line trenches at Mametz.

Canadian 90-pounders added to the din of gun fire.

Shrapnel bursting over their trenches kept Germans astounded.

Church service evening before attack.

Firing "plum puddings" for Emperor Bill from trench mortars.

Bombarding the Germans with 9.2-inch Howitzers.

Shells tearing up the enemy's deep dugouts.

PART 2.

A meal in camp on the evening of the great advance. Moving up the troops.

Operating a 16-inch Howitzer ("grandmother") by Royal Marine Artillery, firing shells weighing 1400 lbs.

Fierce concentrated bombardment of German trenches the morning of the attack, July 1st, 1916.

Fixing bayonets and passing through the communication trenches to first line.

Just before the attack. Blowing up the enemies' trenches by a huge mine. Wiring the crater.

Firing machine guns from parapet.

Shrapnel bursting over first-line German trenches.

Scribblers Scribblers

Thousands of Scribblers bought at the old price, for the first time in the history of the paper, an unusual advance on the price of the old paper, this is a great opportunity for the people of this city to get a good paper at a low price.

Remember when there was a time when the price of the old paper was so high that it was almost impossible to get a good paper at a low price. Now, however, the price of the old paper is so low that it is almost impossible to get a good paper at a low price.

10 cases of toilet paper, also in the shipment, a great opportunity for the people of this city to get a good paper at a low price. A large box of hair oil, 50¢ (only one to a customer).

PARKER A CANADIAN

Novelist and Politician Enjoyed
Succored Early Career

Robert Parker, who attained prominence in British fiction as well as widespread fame as a writer of fiction, was born in 1842 in Canada East.

The gifted author of the pulp in the army who settled in Canada after completing his education at Trinity College, Toronto, in 1864, and who was the son of a wealthy family, was married in Sydney and found his first work in the army.

He was a member of the editorial staff of the Sydney "Morning Herald" and an "adjoining" member of the "Pulse," but his literary career was not successful.
